R. JAMES (JIM) MARSHALL MANAGER

After a two month period to "get acquainted" last season, Jim is in his first full year as manager of the Cubs. With a complete new coaching staff, Jim indicates the emphasis for the 1975 Cubs will be instruction and fundamentals.

Jim was appointed manager of the Cubs July 24, 1974, the day after the All Star Game succeeding Carroll "Whitey" Lockman, who returned to his position in the Cubs' front office as vice president and director of player development. It was a quick step up for Marshall, who had begun the 1974 season as the Cubs' third base coach.

When Jim was named manager, Executive Vice President John Holland said, "he has come up through the ranks and earned the opportunity to show what he can do as field manager . . . Jim knows the Cubs' players, present and future, better than anyone else."

Jim Worked His Way Up Through the Ranks

Prior to 1974, Marshall spent 6 seasons as a manager in the Cubs' organization, 4 as pilot of the Bruins' top farm clubs, which he led to 2 first place and 2 second place finishes. In 1973, the Wichita Aeros, under Jim's leadership, finished second, only one game out of first place. In 1972, he was named "manager of the year" in the American Association while leading Wichita to the western division title.

In his first year of managing at the "AAA" level, Jim led the Tacoma (Wa.) Cubs to the northern division title in the Pacific Coast League. He broke into managing in 1968 when he piloted the Cubs' farm team at Lodi, Calif. In 1969 and 1970, he moved up to the "AA" level managing the San Antonio Missions of the Texas League, and leading them to a third place finish in 1970.

His Experience as a Player Contained Variety

Marshall, who was born in Danville, Ill., signed his first pro contract in 1950 and made his major league debut as a first baseman in 1958 with the Baltimore Orioles. He was traded to the Cubs his rookie year and was with the Northsiders a season and a half, appearing in 134 games in a Cub uniform. Jim also saw action with the San Francisco Giants, New York Mets, and Pittsburgh Pirates before winding up his major league career with the Bucs in 1962. After that, he went to Japan where he played with the Chinichi Dragons from 1963 through 1965.

In his 6 years of minor league ball, Marshall hit 167 home runs (1952-57) highlighted by his 1954 season when he was named to the Pacific Coast League all star team after leading the league with 31 home runs and 123 runs batted in.

Jack is most visable on the field performing his duties as first base coach, however, his more important responsibilities lie behind the scenes. Manager Jim Marshall has said he intends to take full advantage of Jack's abilities as an infield instructor and evaluator of young talent. An infielder as a player, Jack has also been a scout and is directly responsible for a half dozen major leaguers on the roster of his former San Diego team. Jack played 6 seasons of minor league ball (1955-60), then 7 years in the Japanese major leagues (1960-66) where, in 1962, he set a season batting average record of .374. Jim Marshall

Experience and the knowledge of what it takes to be a winning pitcher are the points that attracted the Cubs to pitching coach Marv Grissom. He is an 11-year veteran of the coaching ranks—with Minnesota (1970-71), California (1965-66 and 1969), and the White Sox (1967-68). An all star as a major leaguer, Grissom appeared in 356 big league games, all in relief. He took part in the 1954 World Series with the New York Giants, and also saw action with St. Louis, Boston, Detroit, and the White Sox in his 9 year major league career. Marv still holds a National League record for most consecutive errorless games by a pitcher (219).

Irv has been in 5 World Series—and that ought to say it all about the Cubs' new third base coach. Irv took part in 2 World Series as third base coach of the World Champion Oakland A's (1972-73), and was in 3 as a player with the New York Yankees (1952-53, 1955). "He is an experienced third base coach, and more importantly, knows what it is to win," said Manager Jim Marshall in announcing his appointment last winter. An 11-year major league outfielder-first baseman, Irv was a member of the 1954 American League all star team, setting a personal high that year with a .319 batting average. He played briefly with the Cubs in 1959 and '60.

Jim's experience as an instructor was the prime consideration when he was asked to join the Cubs' coaching staff to direct the bull pen. In addition to managing in the California Angels' organization the past two seasons (Salinas of the California League), Jim was also manager of the Angels' instructional league team in Arizona the falls of 1972 and '73. He played 14 years of pro ball, leading all Pacific Coast League catchers in fielding percentage in 1963 by committing only 3 errors in 912 total chances. Jim was a member of the Cubs' system from 1970 through 1972, serving as a player-coach under Manager Jim Marshall at Wichita in 1972.

BILLY CORDELL GRABARKEWITZ 10

INFIELDER. Bats Right. Throws Right. Born Jan. 18, 1947. Height 5:10. Weight 175. Married, 2 sons. Residence: San Antonio, Tex. Acquired: contract purchased from Philadelphia July 9, 1974.

A versatile infielder, Billy's contract was purchased from the Phillies after infielder Vic Harris suffered a knee injury that put him on the disabled list. . . . Garbarkewitz was with the Phils a season and a half playing third base, second base, and shortstop, as well as pinch hitting in 59 games. . . . He was acquired by Philadelphia in August of 1973 as part of the deal that sent Denny Doyle to the California Angels. . . . Signed to his first pro contract by the Dodgers in 1966, he broke into the big leagues with them in 1969. . . . His best season in the majors, thus far, was 1970 when he was a member of the National League All-Star Team after leading Los Angeles with 17 home runs and driving in 84 runs while stealing 19 bases. . . . He went to the Angels in November of 1972 in the 7-player cross-town deal that saw Frank Robinson also go to California. . . . Billy has been hampered by a series of nagging injuries in his career: a hairline fracture of his right thumb during winter ball in 1973; a shoulder injury that required surgery in 1971; a broken ankle in 1968. . . . Billy is studying for his State of Texas real estate license in the off season.

VICTOR LANIER (VIC) HARRIS4

INFIELDER. Bats Switch. Throws Right. Born March 27, 1950. Height 6:00. Weight 170. Single. Residence: Chicago, Ill. Acquired: with Bill Madlock from Texas for Fergie Jenkins, Oct. 26, 1973.

Last season was not exactly a banner one for Vic. . . . Early in the year it looked like he had a lock on the second base job for the Cubs. . . . However, after a slow start with the bat, the end of his season came for Vic July 7 when he suffered ligament damage in his left knee in a play at second base. . . . He underwent successful surgery to repair the damage July 30, after appearing in only 62 games. . . . In the previous season and a half with the Texas Rangers (1973 and '72) Harris played second base, third base, and the outfield while stealing 20 bases. . . . His former manager at Texas, Whitey Herzog, said of Vic, "give him 3 years and he'll be a super star". . . . Vic led the Midwest League with 39 stolen bases in 1971 after finishing second with 30 steals in the Northwest League in 1970, his first year in the pros. . . . He was a "most valuable player" both at Los Angeles High School and Los Angeles Valley Jr. College; at L.A.V.J.C., Vic hit .360 and led his conference in stolen bases the season before becoming a pro.

BURT CARLTON HOOTON

PITCHER: Throws Right. Bats Right. Born Feb. 7, 1950. Height 6:01. Weight 210. Married. Residence: Buffalo Grove, Ill. Acquired: signed by the Chicago Cubs.

For his first time in his young major league career, Burt spent time in 1974 as both a starting pitcher and a relief pitcher. . . . He started 27 games and relieved in 21. . . . His biggest problem seemed to be a lack of consistency, but when he was on, he was tough: against the Mets he pitched a pair of 4-hit games, and compiled a 1.86 ERA in 28.3 innings. . . . His best relief efforts of 1974 were vs. the San Francisco Giants; he owned a 1.50 ERA against them in 5.2 innings covering 3 relief stints. . . . In 1973, Burt tied for the staff lead with 14 wins, and was tops with 9 complete games. . . . In addition, he pitched a 3-hitter against the Mets, and a pair of 4-hitters. . . . In 1972, Hooton put his name in the record books by pitching a no-hitter against Philadelphia (April 16), in only his 4th career major league start. . . . Hooton's climb to the majors was a quick one: he was selected by the Cubs in the June, 1971, free agent draft, and made his first big league appearance 9 days later (June 17), striking out the first major league hitter he faced: Lou Brock. . . . Optioned to Tacoma later in 1971, he struck out 135 batters in 102 innings and led the Pacific Coast League with a 1.68 ERA. . . . Aug. 17 of that season he tied a P.C.L. record that had not been challenged since 1905 when he fanned 19 batters in one game. . . . Called back to Chicago Sept. 6, 1971, Burt made 2 starts before the end of the season, both against the Mets: Sept. 15, he struck out 15 New York batters to tie the Cubs' all-time record (set originally by Dick Drott, May 26, 1957); and Sept. 21, he shut out the Mets on 2 hits for his first big league white wash. . . . Hooton was a 3-time All-American at the University of Texas where he had a career collegiate record of 35 wins, 3 losses, and a 1.14 ERA in 291 innings.

The Cubs are looking to Darold to be their left-handed "stopper" in the bull pen. . . . A relief specialist all of his major league career, Knowles has recorded 72 saves since they became part of official records in 1969. . . . Over that 6 year period, he also recorded 32 wins to be directly involved in 104 victories in 330 games. . . . Knowles made one start in 1974 (Aug. 7 at Texas) to boost his total of starts in the major leagues to 8 in 497 games. . . . He did not appear in the American League Championship Series in 1973, but in the World Series that year he set a record by becoming the first pitcher in history to appear in every game of a 7-game World Series. . . . He could do no wrong in that Series, compiling a 0.00 ERA in 6.1 innings. . . . Darold tied another Series record by recording 2 saves. . . . In 1972, Knowles missed all post season action for Oakland when he suffered a fractured thumb while batting the last week of the regular season. . . . He went to Oakland May 8, 1971, along with Mike Epstein from the Washington Senators in exchange for Paul Lindblad, Don Mincher, and Frank Fernandez. . . . Knowles spent 5 seasons with the Senators, setting his personal career high of 27 saves in 1970 with them. . . . He made his major league debut with Baltimore in 1965, and in his only previous National League experience, spent the 1966 season with Philadelphia before going to Washington. . . . He attended the University of Missouri.

Jim spent time both with the Cubs and the Wichita Aeros, the Cubs' top farm club, last season. . . . As a starter with the Aeros, he was 8-6 in 15 games. . . . With the Cubs, he appeared in 23 games, 21 of them in relief. . . . Signed to his first professional contract by the Texas Rangers, Krimmel began the 1973 season with their number one farm club, Spokane. . . . After striking out 74 batters in 82 innings, and earning a 5-2 record there, he was called up by the Rangers early in July, and made his major league debut against the White Sox. . . . He was impressive enough that Sox Manager Chuck Tanner recommended the Southsiders try to obtain him. . . . Meanwhile, the Rangers traded him to St. Louis July 16, and he finished the year with the Cardinals' team at Tulsa, Okla. . . . The Sox did acquire him in October of 1973, but he became a member of the Cubs before he

OUTFIELDER-INFIELDER. Bats Left. Throws Left. Born Jan. 17, 1952. Height 6:03. Weight 210. Single. Residence: Woodland Hills, Calif. Acquired: signed by the Chicago Cubs.

Pete came close to taking the triple crown in the American Association last season, but his promotion to the Cubs Aug. 20 cut short his year at Wichita. . . . As it was, he led the American Association with 91 RBI's, was second with 23 home runs, and 4th in the batting race with a .327 percentage. . . . For that effort, he was named to the A.A. all-star team. . . . With the Cubs, LaCock appeared in 35 games, highlighted by his first major league home run. . . . He hit it Aug. 29 at Dodger Stadium off Andy Messersmith, breaking up a bid for a no-hitter by Messersmith. . . . In 1973, Pete again led Wichita in almost every offensive department including runs (89), hits (154), doubles (24), triples (6), and walks (87). . . . He made his major league debut Sept. 6, 1972, vs. the Pirates as a pinch hitter and singled in his first major league at-bat. . . . With Midland most of the '72 season, he finished 4th in the Texas League batting race with a .306 average. . . . A graduate of Taft High School (Woodland Hills, Calif), he won his conference batting title and captained the football team his senior year. . . . Pete's father is television personality Peter Marshall, and he is a nephew of actress Joanne Dru.

PITCHER. Throws Left. Bats Left. Born May 14, 1948. Height 6:02. Weight 195. Married. Residence: Palatine, Ill. Acquired: for Bill Hands, Joe Decker, Bob Maneely, from Minnesota, Nov. 30, 1972.

If Dave could have faced the Mets all last season, he would have been putting records in the books. . . . He was 3-0 vs. New York with a 1.50 ERA in 17.2 innings. . . . In addition, LaRoche finished second on the club with 5 saves, even though he was not with the team all year. . . . Dave opened the 1974 season with the Wichita Aeros to get in a little extra conditioning. . . . After hurling 32 innings for the Aeros, he was called up to Chicago, May 14, for the rest of the year. . . . His contract was obtained by the Cubs from the Minnesota Twins after he posted a 2.84 ERA with them in 1972. . . . That same season, his 5 wins and 10 saves ranked him in a tie for 11th place among all American League relief pitchers. . . . He was signed by the Angel's organization in 1967 as an outfielder, but in his second year of pro ball he was asked to help out with mound duty because of injuries suffered by the Quad Cities pitching staff, and that was the end of his outfield career. . . . For the record, LaRoche appeared in 136 games as an outfielder in 2½ minor league seasons, with 8 homers, 55 RBI's, and a .224 average. . . . Dave was a member of the Connie Mack national baseball championship team in 1966 (representing Torrance and Gardena, Calif.). . . . He has attended the University of Nevada (Las Vegas).

PITCHER. Throws Right. Bats Right. Born March 15, 1938. Height 6:03. Weight 195. Married, 4 children. Residence: Lafayette, Calif. Acquired: with Darold Knowles and Manny Trillo from Oakland for Billy Williams, Oct. 23, 1974.

Bob returns to the Cubs this year after a season with Oakland that he would probably like to forget. . . . He was with the Cubs in 1973, but traded to the A's in exchange for pitcher Horacio Pina after that season. . . . Locker developed arm trouble last spring training that finally resulted in surgery on his right elbow, June 6, to remove bone chips, and he was sidelined the entire 1974 season. . . . With the Cubs in '73, Bob was a real "stopper": he led the club with 18 saves (the most since Phil Regan recorded 21 in 1968), and since saves did not become an official part of records until 1969, that mark stands as the team season record. . . . Also in 1973, Locker registered a feat by recording 3 saves in 3 consecutive games for the Cubs (September 19, 20, 21). . . . He was obtained originally by the Cubs November 21, 1972, from Oakland in exchange for outfielder Bill North, after 2½ seasons with the A's. . . . During that period at Oakland, he put together composite statistics of 16 wins, 6 losses, and 20 saves, and gave up only 4 home runs in 188 innings. . . . Bob broke into the major leagues in 1965 with the White Sox, and Manager Al Lopez converted him from starting pitcher to a reliever. . . . That was followed by 5 stellar years in which he averaged more than 60 appearances a season, capped by 1967 when he led the American League with 77 appearances and a 2.09 ERA, second best in the League. . . . He was traded to the Seattle Pilots in June of 1969, and the following June (1970) the Pilots-turned-Brewers sold

STEVEN MICHAEL (STEVE) STONE 30

PITCHER. Throws Right. Bats Right. Born July 14, 1947. Height 5:10. Weight 175. Single. Residence: Chicago, Ill. Acquired: with Ken Frailing, Jim Kremmel, Steve Swisher, from White Sox for Ron Santo, Dec. 11, 1973.

Used primarily as a starter the last half of the 1974 season, Steve seemed to find the groove. . . . He made 15 appearances the second half, 12 as a starter, and compiled a 5-3 won-loss record with a 3.62 ERA. . . . That is quite an improvement over the first half when he owned a 3-3 won-loss record with a 4.66 ERA. . . . In 1973, Stone led the White Sox in strikeouts per innings pitched with 138 in 176 innings, and was second on that club in total whiffs, despite the fact that he pitched half as many innings as the Sox' strikeout leader, Wilbur Wood. . . . Highlight of the '73 season for Steve was Sept. 30 at Oakland when he 3-hit the A's for a 1-0 victory and struck out a personal career high of 12 batters. . . . Steve went to the Sox in November of 1972, along with Ken Henderson, in the deal that sent Tom Bradley to the Giants. . . . Stone signed his first pro contract with San Francisco in 1969 and broke into the majors with the Giants 2½ seasons later. . . . In the minor leagues, he averaged virtually a strikeout per inning with a total of 399 whiffs in 400 innings. . . . In 1969, he won 7 consecutive games with Fresno of the California League, and in one game that year struck out 17 batters in a 9 inning game. . . . He graduated from Kent (Ohio) State University in 1969, where he was an all-conference player and captain of his baseball team. . . . His battery mate was Thurman Munson of the Yankees. . . . When he was 15, Steve won the South Euclid, Ohio, singles and doubles tennis championship. . . . At 16, he won the city singles and doubles titles. . . . When he was 11, he shot a hole-in-one in golf. . . . In 1968, he was a member of the Kent State championship bowling team (he carried a 180 average). . . . And, he was a member of the university champion volleyball team that went undefeated for 2 years. . . . Steve is in the restaurant business in Chicago during the off season.

PITCHER. Throws Right. Bats Right. Born Jan. 8, 1953. Height 6:02. Weight 190. Single. Residence: Mount Joy, Pa. Acquired: signed by the Chicago Cubs.

Bruce, in only his third year of professional ball, demonstrated major league possibilities. . . . He began the 1974 season with Key West of the class A Florida State League, and put together a 1.35 ERA in 40 innings—that despite missing 2 months because of an injury. . . . He suffered a minor injury to his right knee fielding a bunt in late May that required corrective surgery, returning to action the latter part of July. . . . Promoted to Midland of the class AA Texas League for the last 2 weeks of the season, he fashioned a 1.44 ERA in 25 innings there. . . . Sutter took part in the Arizona Instructional League this winter, leading the league in appearances (30) and saves (7), and posting a 0.90 ERA, second best in the league. . . . Sutter, whose "bread and butter pitch is a sinker" has struck out 144 batters in 155 innings over his 3 seasons of minor league ball. . . . Bruce graduated from Donegal High School (Mount Joy) in 1970, after lettering in baseball, basketball, and football. . . . He led his baseball team to the county championship, his basketball team to a state district title, captained both the basketball and football teams, was named the district's outstanding quarterback and chosen the school's "Outstanding Athlete" his senior year. . . . He played in American Legion and semi-pro ball in his home area.

Steve is considered a "can't miss" prospect for the major leagues, but he wasn't expected to see Wrigley Field at all last year. . . . However, his call to the big leagues came a little earlier than planned because of a knee injury suffered by catcher George Mitterwald. . . . Steve's contract was purchased from the Wichita Aeros of the American Association June 14, and he went on to appear in 106 games with the Cubs. . . . He hit his first major league home run June 28 at Montreal, and 2 months later, Sept. 20, he hit his first major league grand slam against Barry Lersch of the St. Louis Cardinals. . . . Swisher turned in his best performances against the Cards: he hit .343 in 11 games against them, with 2 homers and 8 RBI's. . . . One of the players involved in the deal that sent Ron Santo to the White Sox, Steve was the Sox number one pick in the June, 1973, free agent draft. . . . Swisher played his college ball at Ohio University (Athens) where he was an all-conference player all 3 varsity seasons and an honorable mention All-American in 1972 and '73. . . . His season batting averages at Ohio U. (1971-'73) were .371, .308, .358. . . . He also lettered in basketball. . . . At Parkersburg (W. Va.) South High he was an all-state baseball player, hitting .462 in his prep career (1967-'69). . . . He led his American Legion baseball team to 2 state titles. . . . Steve holds a bachelor's degree in education.

INFIELDER. Bats Right. Throws Right. Born Dec. 25, 1950. Height 6:01. Weight 160. Single. Residence: Monagas, Vene. Acquired: with Darold Knowles and Bob Locker from Oakland for Billy Williams, Oct. 23, 1974.

He made brief appearances in the major leagues at the end of the 1973 and '74 seasons with Oakland, including an appearance in the 1974 American League Championship Series. . . . Trillo narrowly missed being a member of the A's World Series roster in both 1973 and '74. . . . In 1973, he was supposed to replace Mike Andrews on the A's roster, and in '74, he was scheduled to replace the injured Ted Kubiak, but Kubiak recovered in time for the Series. . . . Manny made his big league debut with the A's in 1973 in impressive fashion: he hit an RBI single in his very first major league at-bat to win a game for the A's. . . . He was a member of the Pacific Coast League all-star team in 1973 when he led all second basemen with a .973 fielding percentage, and was third in the league in hits (162), and 7th in the batting race with a .312 average. . . . In '72, he was on the American Association all-star team, and finished 4th in the league batting race with a .301 average. . . . Trillo signed his first pro contract in 1968 with Philadelphia as a catcher, but switched to the infield his first pro season. . . . He was drafted by Oakland in December of 1969. . . . Manny attended Libertador Bolivar College in Venezuela, where he played baseball, basketball, and volleyball.

HOW TO CALCULATE

BATTING AVERAGE: Divide the number of times a player has been at bat by the number of hits he has recorded.

EARNED RUN AVERAGE: Multiply the number of earned runs a pitcher has allowed by 9. Divide the result by the number of innings he has pitched.

WON-LOSS PERCENTAGE: Add the number of games won to the number of games lost. Divide the number of games won by the total of number of games played.

GAMES AHEAD/BEHIND: Subtract the second place team's wins from the first place team's wins, and subtract the first place team's losses from the second place team's losses. Add the 2 results and divide by 2.

MAGIC NUMBER: Subtract the number of losses by the first place team from the losses of the second place team. Subtract that result from the number of games remaining to be played by the first place team.

FREE AGENT DRAFT RULE

Major league and National Association clubs participate in 2 meetings a year for the purpose of drafting free agent player talent. Selection of a free agent entitles the club to the exclusive right of negotiation with the player for a specified period (from the date of selection until 15 days prior to the next draft meeting). Draft meetings are held in June and January.

There are 2 categories to each draft meeting:

(1) Regular Phase—Selection of free agents is in inverse order of major league standings. Each organization may select only one player for each of its major league, "AAA" and "AA" rosters but is not limited to the number of picks for "A" level. Minor league clubs select in the same order as their parent clubs.

(2) Secondary Phase—Selection is of free agents who had been drafted at a previous meeting, but who were not subsequently signed during the negotiation period. It is possible for a club to redraft a player whom it had been unable to sign after the original selection, but only with written consent of that player. Order of selection in the secondary phase is determined by lot.

HIGHLIGHTS OF CUBS HISTORY

The Chicago Cubs are rich in heritage. The team is most proud of the fact that it is the only one of the original 8 charter members of the National League which has operated continuously in the same city in which it was franchised nearly 100 years ago. The Cubs are in their 100th consecutive season in 1975, every one of which was played in Chicago.

The Cubs have officially designated next year, 1976, as their centennial season. Next year will also mark the celebration of the 100th anniversary of the founding of the National League. Because of the close ties between Baseball and the American way of life it is also most fitting that 1976 will mark the 200th anniversary of the birth of our nation.

One of the prime movers behind the establishment of the new National League in 1876 was William A. Hulbert, president of the Chicago club. He was one of the early presidents of the League, and held the dual roles of league president and club president until his death in 1882.

The Chicago club was known originally as the "White Stockings," although in those days nicknames were not official. About 1890 that name was dropped and the team was known by several nicknames, most notably the "Colts" and "Orphans." Legend has it that a newspaper writer, searching for a short nickname to fit a headline, first used the name "Cubs." It was officially adopted as the nickname of the club in 1900.

Early in the 20th century the club came under the absentee ownership of the Taft family of Cincinnati, but following the 1915 season a group of influential Chicagoans, among them William Wrigley, Jr., purchased the club. Five years later, in 1921, Wrigley became majority stockholder. After the death of William Wrigley Jr. in 1932, his son, Philip K. Wrigley, became majority stockholder.

NOTES ON CUBS HISTORY

In 99 National League seasons, the Cubs have played 14,377 games, not counting ties, and won 7,495 of them, both lifetime major league records . . .

The Cubs have won 16 National League pennants, second only to the Giants with 18 . . .

The Cubs, as a team, have hit 100 or more home runs in each of their last 25 consecutive seasons . . .

The all-time major league record for wins in a season and winning percentage in a season is held by the 1906 Cubs, who won 116 and lost 36, for a .763 percentage . . .

The 1935 Cubs set the club record for consecutive wins in a season, with 21 in a row . . .

The largest crowd ever to see a baseball game at Wrigley Field, was 51,556 on June 27, 1930, against Brooklyn. Of that number, however, 30,476 were Ladies Day guests and 1,332 passholders so the official paid crowd that day was only 19,748 . . .

GENERAL RULES INFORMATION

Player Limits: Clubs must cut active roster to a maximum of 25 players on opening day. . . . From Sept. 1 to opening day, clubs may carry up to 40 players.

Trades within the National League: From midnight the last day of the season to midnight June 15, player contracts may be traded or sold without getting waivers. . . . From June 15 to the end of the season, League waivers are necessary.

Waivers: Player contracts may be available for purchase by other clubs in reverse order of the League standings at the time waivers expire, if more than 30 days after opening day. Otherwise, in reverse order of the standing at the close of the previous season.

Inter-League Trades: From midnight on the 5th day after the completion of the World Series to midnight of the day preceding the last day of the Winter Meetings, player contracts may be traded or sold between clubs of the National and American League without waivers. . . . From midnight, Dec. 10, to midnight, June 15, and from the last day of the season through the 4th day after the completion of the World Series, waivers are necessary in the assignor's league. . . . From midnight, June 15, to the last day of the season, waivers from all major league clubs are necessary.

Regulation Game: A regulation game consists of 9 innings unless extended because of a tie score or shortened because (1) the home team needs none of its half of the 9th or only part of it; or (2) because the umpire-in-chief calls the game after 5 completed innings. A regulation game may be less than 5 innings if the home team is ahead after the first of the 5th, or takes the lead or ties the score while at bat in the 5th.

Tie Game: A regulation game that is called by the umpire-in-chief when both teams have the same number of runs is a tie game. Individual player performances are official and are entered in the records, but the game does not count in the League standings and may be re-scheduled at a later date.

Suspended Game: A game becomes a suspended game if it is terminated for any of the following reasons: (1) a curfew imposed by law; (2) a time limit permissible under league rules; (3) light failure or malfunction of a mechanical field device under control of the home club (including automatic tarpaulin or water removal equipment; or (4) Darkness because of any law, the lights may not be turned on. No game called because of a curfew or a time limit shall be a suspended game unless it has progressed far enough to have been a regulation game (see above). A game called under either provision (3) or (4) shall be a suspended game at any time after it starts. Note: weather and similar conditions shall take precedence in determining wheather a called game shall be a suspended game. A game can only be considered a suspended game if stopped for any of the 4 reasons specified. Any legal game called due to weather with the score tied is a "tie game" and must be replayed in its entirety.

NEW "SAVE" RULE IN 1975

Effective in 1975 the new "save" rule reads: "A pitcher shall be credited with a save when he meets all three of the following conditions:

- (1) He is the finishing pitcher in a game won by his club, and
- (2) He is not the winning pitcher, and
- (3) He qualifies under one of the following conditions:
 - (a) He enters the game with a lead of no more than three runs and pitches for at least one inning, or
 - (b) He enters the game with the potential tying run either on base, at bat, or on deck (that is, the potential tying run is either already on base or is one of the first two batsmen he faces), or
 - (c) He pitches effectively for at least three innings."

CUBS' "HOME AWAY FROM HOME" IN ARIZONA

When baseball is in the air, but snow is still on the ground in the Midwest, the Chicago Cubs happily travel to the sunny Southwest each February to prepare for the rigors of the coming 162-game major league schedule. The Cubs are in their 9th spring at Scottsdale, Ariz. "The West's Most Western Town" boasts plenty of the primary ingredients needed for training: Moderate temperatures and plenty of sunshine.

Scottsdale is located in the famous "Valley of the Sun" near booming Phoenix, Ariz., the largest city in the great Southwest. The sun shines 86 percent of the daylight hours and the humidity rarely climbs above 20 percent—ideal circumstances for a spring training site.

The Cubs are one of 7 teams that make up the so-called Cactus League, and one of 4 teams that train in the immediate Phoenix area (See inside front cover for locations of other training bases).

Complete Facilities Make-Up Training Base

The parent club holds its spring workouts and plays its "home" spring games at Scottsdale Stadium, Osborn Road and Ball Park Plaza, just 2 blocks from downtown Scottsdale. The playing field is full-sized and of major league quality. The grandstand seats 4,200 fans.

Adjoining the playing field at the Stadium is a half-diamond—a complete infield to supplement the main field. Just a short distance from the Stadium a second, complete area is located for use by the Cubs' minor league clubs. It consists of complete locker facilities for the more than 100 aspiring young players who train there, as well as 2 full diamonds, another half-diamond, and a battery of batting cages.

Here players assigned to Cubs' farm teams at Wichita, Kan., Midland, Tex., Key West, Fla., or Bradenton, Fla., learn new skills which will prepare them for their seasons and hopefully one day help them to big league careers.

Winter Instructional Team Uses Same Base

Scottsdale Stadium is not just used for spring training by the Cubs. Each October, a team made-up of young players from every team in the organization convenes for a special training session called the "winter instructional camp." As in spring training, Scottsdale Stadium is home base for the winter instructional team, and it plays home games there against similar teams from other major league organizations.

Official hosts of the Cubs in Scottsdale are the "Charros," a group of civic-minded young businessmen associated with the Chamber of Commerce. Named for the gentried Spanish horsemen of a bygone era, they handle ticket sales, maintenance arrangements for the Stadium, and a myriad of other details attendant to spring training.

WRIGLEY FIELD—HOME OF THE CUBS

The Chicago Cubs have always made it a point to provide fans with the best possible facility in which to watch major league baseball in comfort and convenience, but at the same time, to retain the rich heritage of the Cubs and Wrigley Field. One of the few remaining parks in the major leagues that was designed for the sole purpose of playing baseball, Wrigley Field is still a place where fans are close to the action. This has not changed, even though the Cubs have spent more than $5,135,000 in recent years in improvements and modernization projects, excluding expenditures for each year's regular maintenance.

More than a half century of baseball tradition is present within the ivy-covered walls of Wrigley Field. After all, here is where Babe Ruth made his famous gesture toward the bleachers before slamming a homer there, where the Cubs' famed "murders row" of Rogers Hornsby, Hack Wilson, Kiki Cuyler, Riggs Stephenson, and Charlie Grimm pounded opposing pitchers, where Grover Cleveland Alexander, Dizzy Dean, Claude Passeau, Charley Root, Larry French, and Bill Lee toed the pitching rubber. Even in this day of instant communications, the Cubs still maintain the tradition of flying a flag bearing either a "W" or an "L" from atop the scoreboard after a game to inform passerby of the outcome of the day's contest.

Early History of the Park

The Cubs moved to the present North Side location for the start of the 1916 season. The site had been the playing field for the Chicago Whales of the short-lived Federal League, which operated in 1914-15. The Cubs played their first game on the present site April 20, 1916, defeating St. Louis 7-6 in 11 innings. The seating capacity was originally 14,000.

First major improvements were made in 1922-23 when the grandstand was moved back and enlarged, increasing the seating capacity to 20,000. Next, the park was double-decked in the winter of 1926-27, nearly doubling the seating capacity. During the summer of 1937 improved bleachers were constructed. Then, in 1938, wide chairs were installed in the boxes and grandstand. This added to fan comfort, reducing the park's total capacity by several thousand.

During the early years, the park was known simply as Cubs' Park. Then in 1926 it was officially named Wrigley Field in honor of William Wrigley Jr.

In recent years, the lower grandstand in right field was turned-in so that fans sitting down the right field line would face home plate; the entire upper deck was completely re-constructed (in a 4-year project that began in the winter of 1967-68 and was completed in the winter of 1970-71); and plastic, self rising, contour seats were installed in the lower deck reserved seating area, replacing folding chairs; along with many other improvement projects.

The Flags of Wrigley Field Tell a Story

At all Cubs home games Old Glory flies from the centerfield mast-head, highest point in the park. The flags of the 12 National League cities, 8 States, and Quebec fly at the Clark St. entrance.

Before and during each game, 12 pennants, one for each National League Club, fly from the yardarms in the order of the standings of each division on the morning of the game—the first place team in the East Division at top left, and the West Division leader at the right.

The Chicago Cubs flag—red and white on a blue background — displays 16 red stars representing the Cubs' 16 National League Championships. The two blue stars represent the Cubs' two World Championships.

Public Transportation is Easy and Convenient

CUBS PLAYER DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM

Scouting, signing, and developing the Cubs of the future occupies a major share of the organization's attention. Members of the Cubs scouting staff and the Major League Scouting Bureau, of which the Cubs are a member, are constantly on the hunt for young major league prospects.

Skilled roving instructors and managers, especially selected for their ability to work with youngsters, provide guidance as the players gain professional experience leading toward the "big club" in Chicago.

In Memoriam—Frank "Pat" Pieper 1886-1974

An era came to a close Oct. 22, 1974, when Pat Pieper passed away at the age of 88. Pat was the only public address announcer Wrigley Field had known since the Cubs began playing there in 1914. And Pat's history with the team dated back even further than that: he began with the club in 1903 as a peanut vendor at the old West Side Park. Pat saw the Cubs in 9 World Series and always rated Rogers Hornsby as his favorite player and Gabby Hartnett's "homer in the gloamin'" as his favorite memory. Gone forever are the famous words: "Tention, 'tention please. Have your pencils and scorecards ready and we'll give you the correct lineup for today's ball game. . . ."
